Donna Goldstedt died Monday, July 22, at the Chadron Community Hospital. She was born to William C. and Mae (Peters) Manion on September 2, 1935, in a sod house on her parents' farm in rural Box Butte County.

She attended rural schools, graduated from St. Agnes Academy, and taught in rural schools while obtaining her degree from Chadron State College. She also earned a master's degree at Black Hills State.

She married Lloyd J. Goldstedt at Holy Rosary Church in Alliance on June 9, 1956. The couple lived at Kimball, Alliance, Porcupine and Manderson, S.D., before moving to Chadron. Donna spent 11 years teaching young children of Rural Box Butte County before she and Lloyd retired after teaching about 22 years in Pine Ridge Reservation schools.

Donna was an active member of St. Patrick's Catholic Church and assisted with funeral dinners and other projects at the church. She displayed artwork throughout her home that she painted in her painter's club. Donna enjoyed socializing when playing cards with her card clubs. She also took joy in going on a conquest to auctions to find the many treasures that she placed in her home. Donna has spent much time with her husband traveling the world visiting almost 40 countries on 4 different continents. Her greatest joy was her husband, children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren.
