(Neb.)-Nebraskans Warned To Be Wary About Online Scams

OMAHA, Neb. (ASSOCIATED PRESS) - Nebraskans are being urged to watch out for online scams after a woman lost nearly $2,500 while searching for a roommate.

The Better Business Bureau of Nebraska issued a warning Monday that scams related to real estate are common online.

The BBB's Jim Hegarty says an Omaha woman who answered an ad appearing to be from a Canadian woman moving to Nebraska lost $2,485.

Hegarty says the woman deposited bogus money orders, and then agreed to transfer thousands to people who were supposedly helping the Canadian woman move.

The Omaha woman's bank later determined the money orders were fake, and now the woman must repay the money she transferred out.

Consumers are urged to resist deals that require depositing a payment and then transferring some of the money elsewhere.
