(Neb.)-Chadron Stars Of Tomorrow Entries Due Monday

By: Chris Fankhauser Posted at: 03/29/2013 07:36 AM

(Chadron)-The annual Stars of Tomorrow contest, sponsored by the Chadron Kiwanis Club, will be taking place on April 7, and entries for the competition are being accepted until this coming Monday.

There are four different levels of competition. Division I is K-3, Division II is 4-6, Division III is 7-9, and Division IV is 10-12. Past entries have included singers, dancers, pianists and baton twirling. Both soloists and groups may compete. Anyone in the qualifying age groups who has a talent they wish to share is invited to submit an entry. There is no entry fee to participate in the contest. The acts should last no more than about five minutes.

Forms are available online at Chadrad.com by clicking on the banner ad on the home page, clicking on the link on our Local Events story, or by contacting Duane Gardener at West Second Appliance in Chadron. The top three contestants in each division will receive a trophy. The first place winner in Division IV will receive a $150 scholarship and the right to represent the Chadron Kiwanis Club at the regional contest on April 28 in Loveland, Colo. The first runner-up in the senior division at the local contest will receive a $75 scholarship.

For more information, contact Gardener by calling 432-4257. The competition will begin at 3 pm on April 7, and will be held at the ChadronHigh School auditorium.
