His winning entry included his work in the Acclaim magazine.

The Great Plains drew almost 800 entries from an eight-state region. A panel of journalists judged competition.

Thomson, said the magazine was originally the brainchild of the CSC Media Club. The Eagle student newspaper sponsored Acclaim this year.

"The administration and our department have both been supportive. This experience supplemented what we learned in the class, with hands-on, high-impact learning," Thomson said.
