(Neb.)-Forest Service Invites People To Join Their Twitter Account

(CHADRON)-The Nebraska National Forests & Grasslands invites people to join them on Twitter at www.twitter.com/usfsnebraska. Twitter is one of the social medias where individual Forests & Grasslands can share their specific information with all audiences.

Forest supervisor Jane Darnell said, "These are your lands, and they offer more than what you might think! We are excited for every expanded opportunity to reach across miles to all visitors to share more specific and real-time information. We'd love to have folks come visit, but when that is not feasible, Twitter gives us one more tool with which to share these awesome expanses."

The Twitter feeds will be the perfect to view job announcements, fire information, Forests & Grasslands headlines, public service updates, activities, photos, and more.
