(Neb.)-Chadron High Graduation To Be Streamed Online

By: Chris Fankhauser Posted at: 05/08/2013 01:42 PM

(Chadron)-Chadron High School will hold graduation ceremonies for the senior class of 2013 on Saturday morning, beginning at 10 am in the High School gymnasium. Many family and friends will be in attendance. However, there are some people who may not be able to make it to the ceremony. Fortunately, CHS Principal Jerry Mack announced there will be an accommodation for those who cannot attend.

There will be a live-streamed broadcast of the high school commencement program beginning around 9:30 Saturday morning. Mack said the school hopes this will allow more family and friends of the senior class the ability to watch. The link to watch the stream will be provided on the school web page, www.chadronschools.net, and is already available on the principal's blog, www.mackemetics.blogspot.com.

People can also check out the Chadron High School Facebook page for notes, updates and photos, which include pics of a senior prank.
