(Neb.)-New Marquee Sign Installed At Chadron High School

(CHADRON)-The new marquee sign at the Chadron High School has officially been installed. Warm temperatures and a sunny sky on Wednesday provided crews with good weather for installation.

Chadron High School principal Jerry Mack in his blog at chadronschools.net says this project has been in the works for the past three years and was funded mainly through student council fundraising endeavors as well as a donation from the Pepsi Company.

Mack says the new sign has a digital screen for graphics and will provide easier access for those who are updating events. Automatic programming features will allow for the sign to dim at night and then shut off late at night.

In his blog, Mack says thank you to the many students and people involved in making the sign a reality for the school.
