By: Roxie Graham-Marski Posted at: 02/28/2014 11:00 AM

(NEBRASKA)-Nebraska Governor Dave Heineman is a busy man, yet he always makes time to visit with KCSR News regarding items of interest on a regional, state-wide, and sometimes national level. The governor almost always calls into KCSR on the last Friday of the month for a visit that is then aired on that afternoon's Community Focus program, which runs from approximately 4:40-4:50 p.m.

This Friday's program features/d discussion on the governor's recent trip to the National Governor's Association annual meeting in Washington, D.C., and the upcoming Governor's Ag Conference being held in Kearney next weekend. The governor also weighs/ed in on the Keystone XL pipeline, Medicaid expansion, and Nebraska becoming the nation's top state for cattle feeding.

If you're not able to tune in to Community Focus as it is broadcast, it is available for listening online by visiting chadrad.com and clicking on the Community Focus tab on the left hand side of the screen.
