DENVER (AP) — Matt Davidson homered and drove in three runs, Gerardo Parra had three hits, and the Arizona Diamondbacks beat the Colorado Rockies 7-2 on Saturday night.

Chris Owings also had three hits for the Diamondbacks, who won for the first time since being eliminated from the NL West race Thursday.

Charlie Blackmon had three hits for Colorado.

Arizona starter Trevor Cahill (8-10) lasted into the sixth despite taking a line drive by DJ LeMahieu off his right leg in the bottom of the first. The Arizona trainer didn't come out to look at him, and Cahill got the next three batters to strand runners at first and third.

Colin McHugh (0-3), still looking for his first career win, allowed six runs and 11 hits in five innings.
