(CHADRON)-Seniors living in and around the Chadron area will again have the opportunity to attend a health fair customized specifically for their generation. The Chadron Senior Living Expo event will take place from 7:00-10:30 a.m. at the Assumption Arena in Chadron on Thursday. The event is sponsored by St. Patrick's Health Ministry and ChadronCommunityHospital and Health Services. Co-coordinator Pat Kaus says this year's event will feature a variety of informational booths for seniors.

Flu shots from the Chadron Medical Clinic will be available at the expo as well as blood draws from Chadron Community Hospital. Kaus shares tips on how to prepare for either of these. The blood draw requires an 8-12 hour fast. Individuals are requested to bring their insurance cards or money if not covered by Medicare/Medicaid. The cost of the flu shot will be $40.

If an individual does not have insurance, the cost of the flu shot will be $40. A complete blood profile is available for $22.05 or a complete blood profile with PSA is $36.40.

Chadron Community Hospital nurse manager Rose Frieda says for those who haven't yet gotten their flu shot this year, it's a good idea to consider getting one.
