(Chadron)-Thursday is Winter Weather Awareness Day in Nebraska. Just like Severe Weather Awareness Day in the spring, Winter Weather Awareness Day is scheduled to help people get prepared for the change of seasons in our area. KCSR's Chris Fankhauser spoke with the National Weather Service, and has some winter weather tips. For more on Winter Weather Awareness Day, go to the NWS Cheyenne web page. That can be accessed by going to our weather page at chadrad.com and clicking on the link.
