LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) - The Nebraska Broadband Initiative has scheduled a free webinar on what it takes to have a successful mobile information operation.

The webinar is titled "Taking Advantage of Mobile" and is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. on Wednesday. Go to connect.unl.edu/broadband to attend the webinar.

Connie Hancock is a University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension educator, and she says businesspeople need to know about the options available before making decisions about a mobile information strategy.

The presentation is part of the series "Don't Know What I Don't Know." It will be conducted live, and questions will be welcomed.
