OMAHA, Neb. (AP) - A Chadron man has been sentenced to 10 years in federal prison for having and distributing child pornography.

The U.S. Attorney's Office in Nebraska says that 32-year-old Robert Fleming was sentenced Wednesday. After his release from prison, Fleming will be required to serve the rest of his life under supervision.

Federal prosecutors say a search of Fleming's home in 2008 turned up 78 videos and 4,000 pornographic images of child pornography on his computer and digital storage devices.

Prosecutors say the images included prepubescent minors engaged in graphic sexually-explicit conduct.
