

(Neb.)-Colorado Man Wins Buffalo Chip Toss During Fur Trade Days

By: Roxie Graham-Marski Posted at: 07/16/2013 08:30 AM

CHADRON, Neb. (ASSOCIATED PRESS) - A Colorado man has won the men's championship at the annual World Championship Buffalo Chip Toss at the Fur Trade Days event in Chadron.

Twenty-seven-year-old Charley Teal of Fort Collins, Colo., threw a piece of dried bison dung 103 feet, 6 inches on Saturday to win the male 18-and-older competition.

His throw was well short of the world record of nearly 187 feet set in 2000.

The women's crown for those 18 and older was claimed by 39-year old Crystal Ford, of Fort Collins, Colo., who tossed a chip 62 feet, 7 inches.