CHADRON – Two local golfers and a standout golfer from Colorado have all signed National Letters of Intent, Chadron State College women's golf coach Terri Connealy announced Monday.

Both Cali Crile and Kelli Haynes of Chadron inked with the Eagles late last week and Alyssa Stuck of Peyton, Colo., also signed an NLI.

Haynes, a freshman transfer from Western Nebraska Community College, was a three-time district champion and placed third for the Cardinals at the Nebraska State Championship. She was also an all-state selection and her average round is 82.

Crile also performed well during tough competition, earning runner-up honors in Class C, District 5. Her best round was an 89 and she averaged 97.

Stuck averaged 80 at Falcon High School. She was a state qualifier, earned all-region and all-conference, finished in the top three of the Pikes Peak Region as well as the Denver Metro Region and was named All-Colorado following the season. Her best round is 69.
